Prisoner transfers delay Bay maintenance projects

By WAYNE DUCOMBE JR.

The transfer of eight prisoners from Hancock County Jail to the Mississippi State Penitentiary will cause a "tremendous delay" in Bay St. Louis water, sewerage, gas, public grounds and street maintenance projects, says Mayor Larry Bennett. The prisoners were utilized to perform maintenance in various city maintenance departments and in turn were granted 50-day reductions in their sentences for every 50 days of work. Bennett recently reported, "We were just getting caught up on many projects."

Hancock Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson Friday morning reported, "We are planning to start two prisoners working with the city Monday morning. These men were convicted in City Court and are serving 90-day sentences." "We had three more prisoners convicted in the recent Circuit Court term for nonviolent crimes awaiting transfer to Parchman. They may also soon be incorporated into the city work program," he explained. But Peterson speculated only two or three of the work program candidates would agree to participate in the voluntary enterprise. Bennett said nine prisoners were initially utilized in the work program with three each assigned to the Street, Public Grounds, and Water, Gas and Sewerage Departments. "Losing nine people really sets us back and will now make it impossible to clean all the drainage ditches before winter rains begin," he explained. The mayor particularly noted drainage problems in the Cedar Point and Spanish Acres areas of the city. "We had those nine prisoners about six weeks and we were beginning to catch up on several maintenance projects," he stated. Bennett said the prisoner crew also cleaned sidewalks of grass and debris, repaired water line leaks, installed sewer taps and welded broken machinery. "As soon as more prisoners become available, we will take as many as the sheriff will allow. This is a worthwhile program which has saved the city many dollars. Also, the labor aspect helps in rehabilitation of these men," Bennett explained. Peterson said the Parchman-bound prisoners were removed as a result of a new law opening at the penitentiary. "The State Board of Corrections regarded Hancock County as a priority for removal of felony offenders because our jail is regarded as one of the worst in the state," the sheriff explained. Peterson also noted overcrowded jail conditions as another reason for quick removal of the Parchman prisoners. Some 15 prisoners are now being held in the local jail.

Services for Waveland chief today, Monday

By WAYNE DUCOMBE JR.

A wake tonight and Monday funeral with full firefighter honors will be conducted for the late Chief Kenneth Fayard, 44, of the Waveland Fire Department. Gladys Noonan of Waveland, Fayard's mother-in-law, Saturday morning confirmed the chief died sometime between 11 a.m. and noon from a heart attack suffered at a Navy Beach Pavilion, Fla., while he was delivering merchandise for "Southern Fried Foods of Waveland." She said Fayard was a part-time employee of the company owned by Mayor John Longo. Fayard was born in New Orleans and graduated from Waveland School. After graduation, he received full-time by the Waveland Fire Department and began as a volunteer firefighter. Approximately 10 years ago, he was appointed fire chief and assumed the part-time duties of position with Southern Fried Foods. Fayard resided at 604 Meadow Lane with his family. Lt. Gerald (Rusty) Price III of the Waveland Department Saturday reported a uniformed firefighter honor guard will be stationed at the Edmond Fahy Funeral Home chapel during a wake service from 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. today. A Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Price said Fayard's body will be transported in a funeral procession beginning at 9 p.m. Monday to the funeral home. The funeral home is located at 1000 Highway 90, Waveland. The funeral home is owned by Edmond Fahy, Jr. and is operated by Edmond Fahy, Jr. and Edmond Fahy, Jr.

New tri-county Senate district includes Hancock

A new tri-county Senate district, based on 1980 census figures, would place the most of Hancock County in a single new Senate district including a northern rural section of Harrison County and several precincts in Jackson County. If the proposal is approved by the legislature in January, most of Hancock would not be represented by State Sen. Martin Smith of Poplarville. The newly formed district would have to elect a new senator since there would be no incumbent. In terms of the county's House district, the proposal is no different from an earlier redistricting plan passed earlier this month. State Sen. Smith of Bay St. Louis would represent the new district. Those precincts would be shifted into a new district with Pearl River and Stone Counties and would have Wade Smith as an incumbent representative. The proposal, drawn up by the staff of a Joint Legislative Reapportionment Committee, will be submitted for public comment during four hearings.

Smith Saturday said members of the reapportionment committee and its staff, which made the proposal, will attend the hearings. He said possibly the latest proposal will not be changed and a final recommendation to the legislature will include Hancock in the Senate district with the two other coastal counties. "The proposals have been pretty well aired, but now we don't think there will be any more changes," he said. Smith said he felt more comfortable with the second proposal. The first proposal included 18 precincts in Hancock County. Smith said a population analysis of the initial district proposal showed Hancock with a 19,761 population as opposed to Hancock's 11,977 residents. The latest proposal shifts those same 18 Hancock precincts into a district with both Harrison and Jackson Counties and gives Hancock a better position, Smith said. He stated Hancock would have 42 percent of the vote in the new district. A breakdown of the population in this latest proposal shows Hancock with 20,151 people, Harrison County with 18,779 and Jackson County with 11,688. "We did not have the majority before," he said about the first proposal. The second proposal would have two effects, he said. First, it will give more possibility of a Hancock resident being elected to represent the district or, if not, then greater plurality of the vote in Hancock will command attention of those elected, he said. In reference to a possibility of Harrison and Jackson county residents

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Kill Santa Claus pressure to halt alcohol excesses

October 27, 1981
Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Editor:
At the request of the Pastoral Team of Annunciation Parish in Kiln, Mississippi, I am sending you a letter to be published in the Sea Coast Echo in the near future.
Last week we sent this letter to all merchants of our area who sell alcohol. We have sent a copy to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and to the other local newspapers.
Our hope is that the selling of alcohol to minors will be significantly curtailed voluntarily and/or as pressure is brought upon the offending merchants. We thank you for your cooperation in this very serious matter.

Sincerely,
Sister Jean Harvey, O.P.
Pastoral Team Member

ENCLOSURE

We, the Pastoral Team of Annunciation Parish in Kiln, Mississippi, want to share with you our concern about the abuse of alcohol and drugs by our youth. As you well know, many automobile accidents in our country are alcohol and/or drug related. Because we have reason to believe that alcohol is being sold to minors by some merchants in our area we are sending this letter of concern to all merchants.
The Church tries to do its part for the youth through various organizations and social events. However, we cannot and should not bear the responsibility alone. We call upon our various civic organizations and elected officials to see it as their responsibility to provide places and activities for our youth which are properly supervised.
Another very important contribution is family watchfulness. We urge parents to be lovingly concerned about their children's activities and to monitor and direct the hours they are away from home.

Because some merchants opt to remain open all night, their places of business become natural gathering places for youth. It is in such situations that unscrupulous people peddle drugs. We ask these merchants to consider whether it is really necessary to stay open all night, especially in rural areas where few people shop after 5 a.m. We call upon our law enforcement leaders to better police such gatherings in order to discourage illegal sale and use of alcohol and drugs.

A lack of concern on the part of some merchants in selling alcohol to minors speaks to us of rampant greed and total unconcern of the consequences. We do not want to take any drastic legal action at this time, but if matters are not voluntarily righted, we will be forced to go to the state and federal authorities. There is a question here of proper use of the license to sell alcohol.

As Christian people we are prompted by the Gospel which warns us against leading others astray, especially young people.

But anyone who is an obstacle to bring down one of these little ones who have faith in me would be better drowned in the depths of the sea with a great millstone round his neck. Alas for the world that there should be such obstacles! Obstacles indeed there will be, but alas for the person who provides them." (Matthew 18: 6, 7)

We ask God to help us be faithful to our responsibilities as merchants, civic leaders, parents and church leaders. We ask God to bless us as we strive to be channels of grace, not obstacles to grace, for our youth.

Excessive utility deposits a burden on fixed-income households

To the Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:
I recall back a few years, when we worked for $2.54 a week when we paid $5 a week for electricity. When deposit was $5.00 for gas, and we had to buy his own pipe for both water and gas, especially those of us who lived outside the city limits.

It was a struggle then, but what about now when inflation is eating away the dollar bill, and in this recession with President Reagan trying to balance the budget?

But what I can't understand is why those folks who have retirement or workmen's compensation, social security, savings and various other means of security, should suggest change in deposits and billings of our utilities.

But for those of us who are solely dependent on our fixed income and low income can't afford additional charges of any kind. Now it is being suggested that we should have a revision in utilities from $100 to $300 for deposit purposes alone.

To whom do we turn? Is it those who have the most that should make decisions of this kind, or should it be our city's legislators who may consider the poor and needy in their decision making?

Of course, we know there are no free lunches, when asking help for the needy, we are not beating a dead horse. We do have elected officials who are considerate of people on low income.

How many of our citizens know that one can't get blood from a turnip?

So let's face it, even $100 is a heck of a lot of money for those who can't afford it.

Sincerely,
Alvin Nichols

Heavy industrial use rate most serious threat to ground water table

I hope you will be able to bring this to the attention of your Readers.

Re: News Item In Sea Coast Echo

Dear Congressman:
Your interest in conserving ground water in Hancock County is very commendable.
But, you can go one step further. When you introduce your Bill, please include a Statute controlling the use of ground water by Industrial Plants. Make it mandatory for any Industrial Plant to reclaim and reuse the water they take out of the ground.

While it is true that free flowing wells do waste water, the real culprit that is responsible for lowering the Water Table is the Du Pont Plant in Harrison County.

This factory takes 2,000,000 (two million) gallons of water out of the ground every day, makes it unfit for human consumption, and then dumps it in the Bay of Saint Louis.

This is more water than the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland combined use per day.

Again thank you for your interest in the Welfare of the people of Hancock County, but take a good look at the real reason the water table is dropping.

Sincerely,
J.E. Servat

Shuttle could be used to send nuclear waste far into space

Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Sir:
Subject: Nuclear Waste Disposal PROBLEM For 40 years mankind has been unsuccessful in solving the problem of nuclear waste disposal permanently.

BACKGROUND: Since 1942, when the first nuclear waste was produced, not a single ounce of high-level nuclear waste (HLNW) has been put in permanent storage. Nuclear waste remains toxic for a minimum of 5,000 years to a maximum of 250,000 years.

Twenty states now ban dumping while 18 states and over 200 communities regulate shipments.

Currently, seventy-two U.S. nuclear plants produce 30,000 tons per year plus 10,000 cubic feet of low-level waste.

Projections show that by the end of this century 30,000 tons world-wide will be waiting for permanent storage.

Representatives continue and support the best of the ugly, alternative is to pile the 30,000 tons of HLNW now accumulated world-wide.

Current studies by government, industry and the scientific community indicate a very costly, dangerous, long term solution is probably impossible.

Currently, this waste subject is politically sensitive, scientifically accurate, environmentally dangerous, and financially enormous.

It is time to take action. A plan to handle nuclear waste proposed for future consideration.

reprocessed HLNW disposal should be considered.

The ideal plan for HLNW disposal would be a permanent solution, relatively safe, economical, available now, simple in concept and execution, and cost effective.

The plan which seems most promising seems to be non-terrestrial.

The NASA Space Shuttle can carry payloads in excess of 30 tons in various bulk and palletized loads.

Four hundred and eighty-five shuttle launches are currently authorized, planned and funded.

Cape Kennedy, Fla. and the planned St. Augustine, Fla. AFB, could launch facilities are remote and could easily accommodate, for brief periods, HLNW transportation trucks.

Current containment cylinders are 15 feet long and weigh 5,000 pounds each. These cylinders could be "fast loaded" into the shuttle's cargo bay.

The shuttle is already shielded to protect the cargo bay and space.

Control of the shuttle's trajectory during November and December would be "fast loaded" into the shuttle's cargo bay.

Scientist urges involvement in movement to halt nuclear dumping

The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Editor:
As a relatively new citizen of Hancock County, a past research staff member of Oak Ridge National Laboratory, and a present member of the scientific community, I would like to call the attention of all Hancock County residents to an alarming situation that has long term implications for our lives.

I am speaking of the issue of solid waste storage of high-energy nuclear waste material near Richton, Mississippi.

Governmental agencies, particularly the Department of Energy, are acting as though the decision is already predetermined although adequate testing has been neglected.

At this time they are planning to put a small amount of waste into the domes as a testing procedure as early as March.

This will involve the waste having to traverse several water tables (from which naturally every city in Mississippi draws its water supply). Contingencies for this waste have never been proven adequate to prevent long term leakage.

I have grave reservations about their integrity. Leaking radiation could contaminate the water supply of the whole state of Mississippi and surrounding states.

This would render the area virtually uninhabitable.

Even if the solid domes are proven safe enough to contain the radiation, the long-term transportation of this waste to the domes is a very dangerous task.

The economic impact will be widespread. Land and house prices will plummet.

Members of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Governmental officials, and concerned citizens should attend a forum on the subject of nuclear waste disposal.

The forum will be held at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce on Monday, November 2, 1981, at 7:00 p.m.

The forum will feature a presentation by a representative of the U.S. Department of Energy, who will discuss the current status of nuclear waste disposal.

The forum will also feature a presentation by a representative of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, who will discuss the economic impact of nuclear waste disposal.

The forum will be a free and open forum, and all interested parties are encouraged to attend.

The forum will be held at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, 100 North Main Street, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

She said a city donation of $200 would help defray the cost of travel and expenses.

While he will proceed the opening of the festival and is planned to wind through the tube and end in the park, she said.

Also, the Navy Steel Band and numerous local choir groups are expected to perform.

Smith noted the festival is expected to celebrate Thanksgiving and its significance to the community.

There will be carnival rides for children, games included in the festival, along with arts and crafts displays by any community member interested in selling their goods.

The council agreed to donate $200 for the event the same amount of money donated in the Beach Front Festival this spring.

The United States Air Force has selected 1000 people from all over the world to receive flight training at Long Beach High School, Long Beach, Calif., during the next two years.

The first group of trainees were sent to Europe from the United States in support of Operation Market Garden, which was conducted by the British Army in Holland in September, 1944.

A series of similar exercises conducted by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces in Europe.

Burnett, a tank driver at Fort Carson, Colo., with the 1st Infantry, joined with members of his unit to provide vital support for the United States and allied forces taking part in this annual exercise.

The 35th Cavalry Brigade, Bedford, England, mobility plans, capabilities and support agreements between military and civilian transportation agencies of both the United States and its NATO partners.

The exercise is directed by Department of Defense officials, provides military and civilian personnel with specialized airborne training and the performance of duties under simulated combat conditions.

IRMAN BAILEY

Airman in Blue Robert J. Bailey, son of Gertrude Bailey of 108 Lynn Circle, Bass, Christian, has been assigned to Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Randolph Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the functions and weapons maintenance field.

PRECIOUS KITTENS—Huddled in an overturned bucket are these grey-striped two-month-old kittens which are available free for good home through the Bay Viewland Humane Society by telephoning 467-9484 or 467-9484. The society is also seeking a home for the kittens' mother, which is also grey-striped. (Staff photo by Wayne Durnbach Jr.)

Waveland Lumber firm to close after 33 years

R. F. Metayer Lumber Co., Inc. of Waveland, which was founded as a branch of a New Orleans firm in 1948, will go out of business soon the firm has reported.

A "Quitting Business" sale is now in progress and the store will close operation when present merchandise is disposed of, they said.

Jimmy DeBlanc was vice president and manager until 1988 when he became president and general manager.

"This is a legitimate quitting business sale," DeBlanc said. "The only merchandise brought in will be that which was previously ordered."

The store was not closed in preparation for the sale which is being conducted by Earl Gaudin, professional sales executive for Paul K. Brooker Sales, Inc. of Wichita, Kansas.

"We considered a long time before reaching this decision," DeBlanc added.

"In no way will it affect our interest in Waveland and Hancock County. We will continue to live and own property here."

All fixtures and equipment will be sold, and buildings and property will be sold or leased, he said.

The store's 240 feet frontage runs north and south on Waveland Avenue adjacent to L&N Railroad tracks in Waveland.

banning together to outweigh Hancock's vote, Smith said. "Very frankly, the DeBlanc and Standard Communities are so interrelated that Hancock and Harrison would benefit from the new district."

Smith said he still hated to lose Hancock County, but he had failed in his own mathematical attempts to devise an arrangement which would allow his continued representation of all of the county.

Smith explained that keeping all of Hancock County was "impossible" since Poplarville, his home town, would have to have been excluded.

He noted he will continue to have representation in the northern part of Hancock County if a new district is created which would include those precincts in a new district with Stone and Pearl River Counties.

Also he noted the plan, if approved by the legislature in January, will not become effective until January of 1994.

TIMBERLINE

Timberland is a valuable possession. It's worth a lot of money. And that's about as good a reason as any for an owner to plan its management with the same businesslike forethought that he would any other valuable asset.

The sad fact is, however, according to the State Forestry Commission, most Mississippi forest owners give little, if any, serious thought at all to planning the management of their timber. And it's costing them big money.

Every forest, no matter how large or small, should be managed according to a plan if the owner is to realize maximum benefits from his forest. Management specialists with the Forestry Commission can help.

One plan may be simple and another may be complex. It all depends on the size of the forest and the owner's objectives. It's the point of view that counts. Planned management can mean the difference between a forest that produces a steady income and one that produces a one-time windfall.

Diamondhead Garden Club opposes nuclear waste disposal in state

The Diamondhead Garden Club met Wednesday, October 21, in the Aloha Room of the country club, with George Kollisch presiding. Reports were given as follows: Mrs. Minnie Kollisch, beautification and litter chairman, suggested that rather than have special days set aside for pick-up of litter in the area, each member make an effort to pick up at least one trash bag of litter monthly. Mrs. Kollisch gave an interesting talk on the habits of the bluebird.

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Christmas party chairman and hostess, asked for discussion by members regarding specifics of the party. Flower show chairman, Dr. Frances Mayfield, offered mimeographed copies of helpful materials for the Spring Flower Show. Mrs. Cattie Garner announced the October Garden of the Month plaque had been given to Dr. and Mrs. Rex Foster, 5558 Diamondhead Drive, East.

Members of the club distributed petitions to all members, asking that they get as many signatures as possible. She mentioned that the Diamondhead Garden Club send letters to the Elliott Headquarters of Coastians.

World gardeners chairman, Mrs. Dixie Ogden, dated 50 call cards to be mailed on at 11 per cent. She also mentioned that the Diamondhead Garden Club will be holding a November 8 at the Gulf Coast Coliseum.

Mrs. Kollisch reported to the members that the club had won first place in competition with other clubs of the Spanish and Italian gardens. The club also won first place in the first place in the competition with other clubs of the Spanish and Italian gardens.

Club of more than 14 members. The club had a meeting in early October. She reminded members that the November meeting would be a special one. The program was given by Mrs. Clarence A. Brans, publicity chairman.

Sumrall pharmacist named PRC Alumnus of The Year

Everette Eaton, a 1924 graduate of Pearl River College and a member of the PRC Board of Trustees since 1958, is Pearl River College's Alumnus of The Year for 1981. Eaton, a native of Sumrall and a pharmacist in that city for nearly 30 years, was not at the PRC Alumni Banquet, and could not personally receive the award. He did, however, participate in the PRC parade that afternoon, but missed the Alumni festivities because his wife was ill.

President Marvin R. White told the capacity crowd of PRC Alumni that he told Eaton of his award that afternoon after finding out he could not attend the annual banquet. The Alumnus of the Year is usually kept secret until the banquet.

"Everette was here this afternoon meeting with his class," Dr. White told the alumni, "and I talked with him and tried to get him to promise me he would stay, but he said his wife was ill and he said, 'I just can't stay.'"

"That's the quality of the man we are honoring here tonight," Dr. White said. Eaton told Dr. White to explain to the people of Pearl River College why he was not present. "My thoughts are always with PRC," Eaton told Dr. White.

The Alumnus of the Year recipient has been very active in his community and church during the past years. He has served as president of the local PTA, Lion's Club and is a member of the Sumrall Booker Club, committee for the Bay Scouts member of the Sportsman's Club and member of the American Legion.

He has served on the Board of Trustees of Pearl River College since 1958. He has been regular in attendance and diligent in his efforts to serve the people in his county. "He is dedicated to the interest and welfare of the students, faculty, administrators and alumni of the college," Dr. White said. Eaton is now serving as vice-chairman of the PRC board.

Eaton is married to Billie Eaton and they have two children, James William Eaton of Knoxville and Brenda Eaton Phillips of Atlanta.

Anne Dandridge of Poplarville and president of the PRC Alumni Association recognized Bertha Simpson of Poplarville as the earliest graduate of PRC. Mrs. Simpson graduated from PRC in 1916 and she received an autographed football from the 1981 Wildcats.

Toxie Smith of Las Vegas, Nevada was recognized as the PRC graduate who traveled the farthest to attend the 1981 Pearl River College Homecoming.

Dr. White welcomed the class members of 1924 through 1936, the freshman and sophomore classes of 1980 and the classes of 1941-42. All three groups had reunions earlier in the afternoon.

Dr. White also recognized Bob Joiner, highway commissioner of the southern district, Senator Martin Smith and Representatives David Smith, Wade Smith and Clifton Holmes. PRC board members in attendance included Frank Fortenberry, J. O. Frierson, Kathryn Moody, Edmond Mitchell, Harlan Daughdrill, Gregg Mitchell, and Pate Lumpkin.

Verne Carr, a former Wildcat football player, who returned a punt for an 80 yard touchdown in the 1941 Homecoming game against Perk, was also recognized. Pearl River played Perk this year in the Homecoming game.

Mark Battle of Hattiesburg and student council president, also welcomed the alumni and introduced the 1981 PRC Homecoming Court and their parents.

The Pearl River College Singers, under the direction of Dr. Larry Newell, entertained during the banquet.

In alumni business Larry Linder was elected to serve as vice-president of the association and Shelton Ball, the past vice-president, was elected to serve as president of the PRC Alumni Association.

Enoch Seal was elected to serve again as secretary and treasurer of the organization. Seal has held that post for the past 27 years.
